OUR DIRECTOR

Mr. Clarence B. Carey
Miss Mary Anne Carey

Most people associate a principal with an impatient, lecture-giving, non-caring individual, content to walk through the halls of his school and accept with unfounded gratitude the compliments handed to him. However, the pupils at Jones are proud that this is not the picture of our director and friend Mr. Carey. "Friend," describes him perfectly for he is kind and understanding — and above all he takes time out to listen to the troubles of us students.

Mr. Carey, born in Chicago, graduated from high school when he was fifteen. He began work as an office boy at what is now the Chicago Herald American. He was affiliated with this paper all through his college years, first as a reporter, then a writer, and finally as editor of the sports department.

Mr. Carey has a Bachelor's Degree in Commerce and a Master's Degree in Business Administration. He taught filing, typing, journalism, and salesmanship at Jones before he became director of the school in 1942.

Our director has four children ranging from Mark, five; William, thirteen; Clarence B. Junior, sixteen; to Mary Ann, who is seventeen. Incidentally in the summer of 1950 Mary Ann attended Jones to learn to type properly.

Mr. Carey credits much of his success to fate, but says — in the very next breath — that fate rewards only those who work to achieve success. He said also that there are higher spiritual goals for him and for all of us to reach.

Jones

The world today is at the threshold of an atomic war which threatens to alter the human race as we know it. Our nation stands in the middle of this chaos; therefore, it is important for us to stand firm for the things for which we have so long been noted.

Our Constitution was adopted in 1789 after much thought and criticism by our since-famous statesmen. It described or set forth in the language of their period the ideals we now hold so sacred. These ideals were strengthened by the trials and tribulations of the period prior to the drawing up of this historic document.

In our own day ideals such as freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from fear, and freedom from want are now being threatened. How will we answer this challenge? What does our future hold? The young men and women of today are the only ones who can answer these questions.

What is our school doing to prepare us to take up this challenge? It is helping us to acquire sufficient knowledge so that we may be capable of meeting with competence the problems of the future world. It is deepening our realization that we will take an important part in molding the peace of our country. It is making us comprehend that the world, which will be in our hands, must be taken care of.

However, while we still remain in our legal infancy we are doing our meager bit. We have united in well sponsored clubs to keep ablaze in our hearts the flame of charity. We have visited such institutions as orphanages, old people's homes, and veterans' hospitals. Some clubs have even helped partially support national organizations for the help of sufferers of cerebral palsy or infantile paralysis. This participation occurs above and beyond the regular financial efforts of the general student body. As adults we will be able to do even more.

This is a bright prospect, for we have liked our taste of responsibility and, as vigorous youths, we are eager to advance in every field. So long as we have the enthusiasm and pep so characteristic of our age-group, we must push ourselves to incomparable efforts to learn all the facts pertaining to world relations as well as national and state affairs.

We do not live in a world by ourselves. Wake up, young America, for our day is here.

DIRECTOR

Mr. Clarence B. Carey, our prominent director and true friend of all Jonesites, wears a pleasant smile that warms all of our hearts. Because our friend is admired by everyone he meets, the Jonesites frequently seek his counsel. We find our director is always willing to help and advise, and we may be assured that he will do his best to keep his Jonesites happy.

While we look for his advice, Mr. Carey is forever asking the students' opinion of the way in which our school is run. We admire Mr. Carey so much because of his warm personality and those traits which each of the students cherishes. He is sincere, thoughtful, and has a kindly word for everyone he meets.

Mr. Carey, we wish you lots of luck, happiness, and further success to Jones in return for making this past year happy for us. Without you we could not have reached the goals for which we were aiming.

And for all this we thank you.

ADMINISTRATORS

MR. EDWARD R. LEACH, Assistant Director

MR. LEACH

Meet Mr. Leach, our assistant director. Besides assisting Mr. Carey in the organization of Jones, Mr. Leach is kept busy as a bee, preparing programs for each new semester. This is quite a job, because if a Jonesite is not completely satisified with his program, Mr. Leach will do what he can to make that particular student happy. He believes in everybody's being satisfied, and he tries to see that things go smoothly all the time. We also appreciate his many new ideas as well as those he shares with Mr. Carey: to make a Jones day, one filled with work and play; to keep Jones a friendly, business-like school. We are happy to see your smiling face in our school office, Mr. Leach.

MISS FLORENCE O'BRIEN, Adjustment Counselor

MISS O'BRIEN

Our Miss O'Brien is always kept on the run because of her countless duties. Of all the Jones faculty, we feel that Miss O'Brien is the only one who can administer a test without too much of a struggle. Miss O'Brien gives monthly tests in typing and calculating. She is the sponsor of the Kraft Personality Committee and also shares in the ticklish job of determining the production awards for graduation. Miss O'Brien is always busy, as we Jonesites can see, and steps up her activities still further when Fashion Show time is near. She sponsors the Jones Fashion Shows from which all of us get so much enjoyment.

MR. GERALD G. O'NEILL, Placement Counselor

MR. O'NEILL

A Jones graduate, thanks to Mr. O'Neill, never has the worry of digging up his own job after graduation, for our placement counselor sees that all Jonesites are placed in well paid situations. Before entering Jones almost every Jonesite meets Mr. O'Neill. This usually happens in the 2A semester when he spends a great deal of time interviewing 2A's, from schools all over the city, who wish to enter Jones in their Junior year.

Mr. O'Neill is also the sponsor of Jones' active Alumni Association. All Jonesites have a keen fondness for "Mr. O" because of his fine sense of humor and wonderful friendliness.

HEAD MEN

DR. HEROLD HUNT

General Superintendent of Chicago Schools

DR. HOBART SOMMERS

Assistant Superintendent in charge of Vocational Schools

May we introduce Dr. Herold C. Hunt and Dr. Hobart H. Sommers, head men of the Chicago Board of Education.

Dr. Hunt, the General Superintendent of Chicago Schools, is the ideal of all public school students in our city, because he does his best to give Chicago the fine school system it now has. Dr. Hunt has held the position of Superintendent in a number of states. Before coming to Chicago, he held this position in Michigan, New York, and Missouri.

Because of our record for having no broken windows, Dr. Hunt awarded to Jones $125 worth of books for our library and the students' enjoyment.

Dr. Sommers, Assistant Superintendent in charge of Vocational Education, has been a true friend to the faculty and student body of Jones Commercial High School by keeping up an active interest in the future development of Jones. His interest is shown by the many visits he makes to our little schoolhouse. He has visited our classes while in session and has also been a guest at several faculty meetings.

In the past Dr. Sommers served as the principal of Austin High School for ten years. He now has charge of Jones Commercial High School and besides this he also supervises Washburne Trade School, Chicago Vocational School, Wescott Vocational, Dunbar and Richards Trade Schools.

We know Dr. Sommers is doing the best possible for us because of his keen knowledge of modern educational problems, especially those that have to do with vocational education.

To Dr. Hunt and Dr. Sommers, we, the students of Jones Commercial High School, offer our sincerest appreciation for their loyalty, interest, and generosity to our school. We hope that in years ahead, we will continue to work for people who inspire us as much as our head men did during our school days.

We are very grateful to professor Cox and Mr. Mason for donating their gift, presented because every student in our school wrote a thousand-word essay on "Selling as a Career."

In the photographs below we see five more of Jones' warmest friends and patrons.

Mr. Harold W. Dickhut, president of the Office Management Association of Chicago and executive of Stivers Office Service, helps to make Jones welcome in the business world by his contributions which come through the O.M.A.C.

Mr. A. T. Bush, office manager of the Acme Steel Company, wins our appreciation for his unique idea of the Acme Steel Award. Each of ten Jones students rating highest in scholarship receives a steel tray.

Mr. J. C. Staehle, industrial relations director of Aldens, Inc., awards the outstanding typist of each graduating class a typewriter.

Mr. J. L. Kraft, founder and chairman of the Kraft Foods Company has made it his custom to award jade jewelry to the Jones students who have worked hard in developing their individual personalities.

Mr. S. L. Workman, president of Workman Service, Inc., awards to two graduates in each class scholarships valued at $125 each for one year's session of evening classes.

Every year Jones brings forth from its student body memories of unforgettable experiences bound up in a single volume entitled the Jonesite.

This publication requires a whole year's preparation — many long and tedious hours involving the skills, abilities, and enthusiasm of both the business and editorial staffs.

The business and advertising staffs collect all fees and solicit all advertisements which are to appear in the current issue. These ads help to bear some of the tremendous expense involved in publishing the yearbook. The "patronage of" section which appears each year is also the fruit of the efforts of this staff. It is also their policy, as directed by Mr. Franklin, to get as much financial support as possible in the form of outside-school subscriptions.

Writing all descriptive matter such as captions, identifications, stories, taking pictures of club groups and school activities, is the job of the editorial staff. This group also has charge of compiling and arranging all written material preceding publication of the volume. Both staffs have worked smoothly under the direction of the editor-in-chief, Joan Graf.

This year, instead of being issued in June, copies of the yearbook will be mailed to subscribers at their home addresses in August. In this way late spring events as well as the June Prom and Graduation Exercises will be included in the book.

JONES REPORTER

A Jonesite can always read about the important events and news in the Jones Reporter, our school newspaper of which we are so proud.

All of the 4B and 4A Journalism classes play an important role in the assembling of the news, setting up of the dummy, proof-reading and distribution of the paper.

The members of the staff elect the page editors and also the editor-in-chief. The editor for the fall term was Donna Fisher, while Jane Maitland and Mary Lou Luebbing took over as co-editors for the spring semester. The members who write the monthly columns get this duty on a voluntary basis.

By being on the Reporter staff a Jonesite learns, through experience, the basic elements of Journalism and newspaper work. They are given a sense of true-to-life responsibility in the editing of a real newspaper.

The staff members are rewarded for their efforts by the satisfaction of knowing that the whole student body enjoys reading the Jones Reporter.

G.A.A. REPRESENTATIVES

In the top picture we see Ruth Strauss, Zora Govedarica, Dorothy Anderson, Claire Harrington, Joyce Bridgell, Marion Castronovo, and Concetta Curatolo as they might appear when on their way to visit some point of interest in our city. Club Tours are sponsored by Mr. Pall of the Jones faculty. The Tours Club visits museums of art and science, the Historical Society, and any other place of interest which is also educational.

In the middle picture Barbara Paradee and Gloria Benesh represent the Riding Club, sponsored by Miss Gorman. The Riding Club members usually ride in the afternoon after their classes. These sessions always take place at Christensen's Stables. Through arrangements made by Miss Gorman and the members, it is possible for the riders to take lessons from expert riders and teachers at the stables.

The Girls' Athletic Association is also sponsored by Miss Gorman. Each division room elects a representative to the G.A.A. The lower picture shows representatives Charlene Dahlberg, Helen Tosti, Catherine Fahey, and Concetta Curatolo.

The G.A.A. welcomes all 3B's to Jones on their first day when the 4B's sponsor a "Big-and-Little Sister" party.

The Girls' Athletic Association also sponsors the Volleyball Tournament which starts in December. Each division is represented by a team. All games are played in the morning before classes. The champions are determined by a Round Robin system. We have a great deal of all-year-'round fun in these organizations.

The Junior Board of Directors is sponsored by our principal, Mr. Carey. This board consists of the four class officers from the 3B, 4B, 3A, and 4A classes respectively. The president of the 4A class presides over all the meetings.

The general subject of discussion at the board meetings concerns ways and means of improving our school. Each class officer collects questions, criticisms, and suggestions from the students in his or her particular group and submits a report at the meetings.

Some topics which were brought up during the past year were: cleanliness and neatness of appearance throughout the school and cafeteria, homework problems, conduct in the lunchroom and halls, locker conditions (sorry there's not enough space for the awful details).

Through board action, Mr. Carey secures cooperation of the Jones girls in the matter of wearing hats and not wearing sweaters or bobby sox; also the cooperation of the boys concerning the wearing of coats and ties.

Our student body is very fortunate to have the Junior Board of Directors, for we feel that it is like a student government in which our individual opinions are voiced by class officers whom we have chosen as our leaders.

At Board sessions Mr. Carey helps the student officers solve problems and answers questions. He is not only fair but also very frank in his advice and decisions.

Thank you, Mr. Carey, for making this organization possible.

THE ORDER OF THE OWL

Row 1: Benesh, M. Anderson, Krucsler, Hipkins, Bridgell, Young, Curatolo.
Row 2: Paradee, Lekovich, Tosti, Maitland, Harrington, Guglielmi, Tomasetti.

One of the highest honors a Jonesite can work towards, is membership in the Order of the Owl.

This semester we are happy and proud to welcome Mr. Thomas as our new sponsor, since Miss Doyle, our former well-loved sponsor, is no longer at our school.

These students who have worked hard and achieved this high rating are a step ahead of every one. When they go out into the business world they are going to be adequately trained for the big responsibilities which they are going to be entrusted with.

The only qualifications a candidate must have is an average of "E" in his final marks. Physical Education is also included. He must have "E" or "S" in the major subjects. The average of his grades must be 3 points or higher.

The Owls are awarded gold-plated pins which they may wear the entire semester to show the high honor which they have worked so hard to win. If a student is an active member of the Order of the Owl two consecutive semesters, he may keep the pin permanently.

There are many pleasant surprises in store for Owl members. Claire Harrington, Barbara Olsberg, Jean Westaway, and Marion Castronovo of the 4B class found out just how true this was when they were given the chance to see "South Pacific." Before the show began they ushered members of the audience to their seats. Once the show began, they settled down to watch one of the greatest musical hits of all time.

There are many such opportunities and advantages for students who are willing to work hard to win them.

DISCUSSION PIONEERS

Don Bilotta, Joan Graf, and Don Bentsen are the ones who rate pictures as the three pioneers of the Discussion Club which formerly met weekly, during the division period, under the sponsorship of Miss Thorning.

During the spring semester Mr. Pall, the new sponsor, has been in the process of organizing the new Discussion Club. In line with Mr. Carey's suggestion, Mr. Pall has been thinking about conducting discussion sessions by having one meeting each week in all of the history and civics classes.

Some of the topics that the members in the past have regularly brought up because of their community interest are: "The C.T.A.," "Education," "Communism," "The United Nations," and the many other subjects that are interesting to all of the students.

Not only have the members found this club educational, but every student has found that the discussions are enjoyable and stimulating.

RECEPTIONISTS

MISS LILLIAN FOLEY — Sponsor

Jones is very proud of its Receptionists who, under the sponsorship of Miss Lillian M. Foley, are universally regarded as ideal Jonesites. In each of the girls the faculty has found exceptional qualities such as a sparkling personality, good grooming, excellent scholarship, punctuality, and ability to meet people. Besides, they possess charm and poise — the two winning qualities keenly sought by employees.

These girls have earned praise and commendation from many visitors to Jones Commercial High School. One of them said: "In times such as these when good workers are hard to find it is surprising to know that Jones turns out into the pasture such well-trained business people."

It is the hope of every new Jonesite to become a member of our Receptionist Club in her senior year. The successful candidates are enthusiastic and overjoyed when they win the chance of belonging to this Club.

Here are some of the comments from the girls themselves:

"Being a Receptionist is certainly helpful in developing poise and self-assurance. Whenever I wear a hat I feel tops," says ALINA STEFANEK.

From JOAN GRAF we hear: "The knowledge that I am now a Receptionist helps me greatly in attaining poise and confidence which I will certainly need in the business world."

AURALIA RANKE, PEGGY HICKS, DONNA TAMMEN, and others agree that "There is no other club in the world that we are prouder to belong to."

MARY MARSHALL readily admits: I think the Receptionists do an excellent job in escorting visitors around our school. The students who are in the Club work hard to make it successful and to keep up with its high standing."

MARY LOU LUEBBING says: "It's the type of club every girl needs — gives you confidence in yourself and your school, and is really a lot of fun."

During the spring term of school this year we had some new members (all 4 B's). Let's quote their opinions:

"I wanted to belong to the Receptionists because I think it is an honor to belong to the Club made up of girls who excel in posture and personality, with a "G" average in their studies. I am proud to be a member," was CONCETTA CURATOLO'S opinion.

From JARMILA SUDA we hear: "I think joining the Receptionists is the best opportunity I can experience because I enjoy meeting people, and I know that this is one of the Receptionists' duties. I consider it an honor to be a member of this Club."

"Since the Receptionist Club is the one club of its kind at Jones, I think it is quite an honor to be in it. It's also nice to know how you rate among the teachers; so if you are selected, you know you have personality, good posture, and that your grades are good." This is BETTY ALTEMEIER'S opinion.

PAT KOZLOWSKI said, "I am delighted to be chosen as a Receptionist because I think the Club is a wonderful organization and provides many opportunities for its members."

I could tell you what many members say about this Receptionists' Club at Jones, but what of the person who has organized this wonderful organization — yes — I mean MISS FOLEY, who is a sparkling example to the girls. It's through her guidance that the Club has flourished and gained the reputation as one of the best organizations of its type in the city. Miss Foley is always well-groomed and smiles to let you know that she knows that you exist.

Let's give a hand to Miss Foley and her Receptionists. A salute to their integrity is well earned by these girls.

GLEE CLUB ★ ★ ★ ★

Let's take it from the top of the page now, kids."

From our music room on the first floor burst out the strains of "Indian Love Call" and immediately you know that Miss Hyde's music class is in full swing. The whole school echoes with music that puts the entire enrollment of Jones into a happy mood.

We Jonesites really take to music. Every year the school puts on a big musical show which is held at one of the larger schools in the city. This year our production was put on at Schurz High School on May 18. As usual, with the cooperation of the students and faculty, "The Real Thing" was a tremendous success.

Marlene Lester and Rosalie Hallo did a teriffic job as the "Old Grey Mare." By the way, the mare was the handiwork of our own Jackie Johnson who worked for hours, trying to achieve just the right touch.

Marguerite Shaw stopped the show with her rendition of "The Lullaby of Broadway," and the long, tireless hours of rehearsal put in by Dorothea Witt, Carmen Tangaline, Valda Sorce, Shirley Summers, Connie Baron, Gloria Babcock, Barbara Johnson, Arlene Gorny, Phyllis Curry, Shirley Bruck, and Mary Ann Poczatek were not in vain either, for their "April Showers" number was one of the most outstanding of the show.

It's easy to see that, with an atmosphere as happy and content as we have here at Jones, we just can't go wrong. When the students enjoy their work, half of the battle is won, and the folks here do enjoy their work.

Gosh, there goes the bell. The period is over and here come the kids now. Look, everyone is smiling — and SINGING.

FIRE MARSHALS: In the picture above we see the Jones fire-eaters and their chief, Edward Leach, whose other role is that of Assistant Director of our school.

In the first row we see John O'Brien, Casey Kazmierowski, George Beglin, and Bernard Bell listening attentively to Mr. Leach's instructions.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

One of the most active organizations in our nation today is the Junior Red Cross. Plans for this movement were drawn up by President MacCraken of Vassar College, and were adopted by the War Council, which put them into effect in September, 1917.

The organization is shared by the young people of America who voluntarily contribute their services to those in need of assistance. Some of the main activities include: entertainments that are staged in children's hospitals and in old people's homes; distributions of flowers, food, and toys to the sick in both private and public institutions; various projects undertaken to improve school grounds, promotion of fire and accident prevention, and raising money for dental clinics and summer camps for the underprivileged.

In doing what we can to help this worthy organization, we students at Jones Commercial High School have made one hundred and twenty-five stuffed animals and have also contributed twenty books to those on the Chapter's Home Service list and to children in some orphanage.

In view of the excellent work the students have done on these lovely toys, the Board of the Chicago Child Care Society sent a thank-you letter showing its appreciation of this service.

Mrs. Gillen and members of her board are planning their activities for this spring, a part of which will be the voluntary performance of office work and typing for the main Red Cross office.

We all know what an important part the Junior Red Cross is playing in our lives today, BUT, we must not forget those who played an important part in the founding of the Red Cross — such brilliant persons as Henri Dunant, the Swiss financier who organized the Red Cross in Geneva, Switzerland; Henry P. Davison, Chairman of the American Red Cross War Council, who concluded that an effort should be made to bring the advantages of the Red Cross services to the world in time of peace as well as war; and then, one of the greatest women of all times, Clara Barton.

The officers of our Junior Red Cross Club, in the fall semester, were as follows; Marilyn Kentish, president; Vangie Heron, vice-president; Joan Graf, secretary; and Ruth Strauss, treasurer. Thank you, girls, for a job well done, for the time you served.

OPEN HOUSE

"American Education Week" found Jonesites busily preparing for the annual Open House. It was a very important evening at Jones on November 10, and in spite of the cold weather the crowd was enormous. Parents and friends were welcomed by our charming hostesses whose smiles and cherry "hellos" were the delight of the evening. Among them were Eleanor Roach, Shirley Reinke, Vangie Heron, Jean Sarlin, and Katherine Fahey. They issued programs and ushered the parents to the different rooms where they were allowed to visit from 7 to 9 p.m. The 3rd and 8th period classes were re-enacted along with the regular division program. Third period began at 7:30 and ended at 7:55. Merchandising, Stenography, Office Practice, Accounting Machines, Calculating, U. S. History, and Sales classes were in session during 3rd period.

These major courses showed the preparation for stenographic, secretarial and clerical positions; preparation for placement as bookkeepers and for advanced or specialized accounting; intensive training on specific machines to insure a high degree of operative skill; training and first hand knowledge of retail selling and its related fields along with actual job training.

At eight, the division period began with the regular announcements. Marilyn Matis, Helen Hodits, Donna Bay, Sharon Shultz were among the students who participated in the skit titled "Gettysburg Address". The parents showed a great interest in the easy way in which students and teachers co-operated.

Styles of clothing worn for different occasions were discussed among the students of Room 202. For our parents the division program was too short and the bright smiles that appeared on their faces meant that they were enjoying themselves.

Later the receptionists served refreshments — coffee and cake — in the school cafeteria. Here many of the students and their friends became acquainted with one another.

Every one who took part in the evening program helped to make it a huge success, and we hope that our parents continue to become better acquainted with our school and that our annual Open House will continue to be a bigger and better success each year.

As we walked through the halls of Jones we just couldn't help noticing the attractive signs reminding us that the Jones Fashion Show, to be held at the Fair Store Auditorium, was just a few weeks away. The tickets were becoming more and more scarce. Just about everyone looked forward to the night of nights.

Slowly, but surely, the production began to take shape. With Nancy Vismek and Marion Sovinec working on scripts that were constantly being revised, and Miss Kelly rehearsing the players, a skit came into being. A skit is not enough to make a show, so music was called for. Coming to the rescue were Miss Hyde, the Glee Club, and a host of students who offered to do specialty numbers. Of course a fashion show still would not be a fashion show without models. Tryouts were held, and for weeks the finalists worked with Miss O'Grady until they performed like professionals.

The time seemed to fly. There was so much to do and so little time in which to do it. All the specialty acts went into rehearsal immediately. Actors worked during lunch periods and after school to produce just the right effects. The sales classes got their ticket campaign under way just as soon as the tickets came back from the printer. Almost all of the students had something to do with this production.

At last the big day, October 27, 1950, was here. In just a few more hours the curtain would go up on "Prim, Pretty, and Proper." The grease-paint had been put on long ago, and back-stage there were frantic actors and actresses going over their lines for the last time. Models still sat before mirrors, arranging and then rearranging their hair.

Then a hush fell over the crowd, and the curtain went up on a show that was to become one of the most unforgettable in the history of Jones.

May we take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to Miss Gifford and her Fair Store staff, and to Miss O'Brien, Miss Foley, Miss O'Grady, Miss Hyde, and Miss Kelly, whose tireless coaching and advice made "Prim, Pretty, and Proper," the big success it was.

FASHION CLINIC

In business circles we Jones girls are known for our cleanliness and style. We have acquired most of this "know-how" from instruction in grooming classes.

This year the Fashion Clinic was born to help us even more. Our sponsors taught us how to make use of every detail in matching accessories and also how to type ourselves according to our own personal tastes. We know now that a little waste material we formerly thought was useless may be put to good use.

Good clothes can do double-duty for our needs. It is better to have one good dress than to own a couple of cheaper dresses. In the business world attractive clothes often become the first step to success. This doesn't mean that we must buy beautiful and appropriate clothes merely to impress our boss, but also for our own satisfaction. We, however, will be dependent on our appearance for the first impression we make upon an employer.

Wednesdays, at eight in the morning, we girls hold our meetings in Room 103. After we elected officers: Donna Kennedy, president; Aldona Kanape and Anne D'Amore, vice-presidents, we carried on with regular business.

"Earn while you learn" is the motto for senior high school boys and girls who participate in the Co-operative Part-Time Training Course. This is sponsored by the Chicago Board of Education and the State Street Merchants' Association.

This career is available to high school boys and girls in their senior year. Some of the requirements are:

1. The student must be in his or her fourth year, at least 16 years old and considered "employable" in the estimation of the placement counselor.
2. The student must have enough credits for graduation plus the consent of his or her parents to take part in this specialized program.

Each day after their regular school classes these students go to their respective places of employment. These supervised work experiences are arranged by the teacher-coordinator. The student has a work experience of approximately 30 hours a week. He is paid at prevailing wage rates.

Some of the Training Stations are Carson Pirie Scott and Company, Marshall Field and Company, Sears, Stevens, The Fair, Mandel's, and Lerner's.

At a special commencement luncheon given by Carson's, the Illinois Merchants' Association and the Illinois Chapter of the State Street Council will present two gold wristwatches to outstanding students. Certificates of Award will also be presented by Mr. Bruce MacLeish, Chairman of the Board of Directors, Carson Pirie Scott and Company.

The Merchandising Course is designed to place, guide, and train the students on specific jobs in a distributive occupation.

JONES ALUMNI

MR. GERALD O'NEILL
Sponsor

Let us tell you about the Jones Alumni Association, sponsored by Mr. Gerald G. O'Neill and founded not long after the first graduating class left Jones and went out into the business world.

The main function of the Jones Alumni is to develop a binding friendship among the members, to promote and help with policies and programs which will benefit Jones Commercial High School, and last but not least, to have fun.

Some of the festivities sponsored by the Association are: Christmas parties, beach parties, hay-rides, splash parties, and an annual reunion.

At the meetings the usual business is taken care of and then is followed by entertainment. The rest of the time is spent "chewin' the rag" and catching up on the latest news of Jones grads.

Here's the latest. Gloria (Licht) Levoe, alumna of Jones in June, 1949, was married in November, 1950. Before the honeymoon was over, Gloria was in the hospital for an appendectomy. She was glad to complete her recovery in her lovely Villa Park home.

Jeri Krupp, June 1949, won a beauty contest and was awarded a trip to Miami, Florida, and Havana, Cuba. Jeri, along with her job as secretary, has been modeling and is now signed up with an agency in addition to being engaged to be married to Mr. Oscar Katov.

Mavis Gustafson Points Out Items Of Interest To Her Fellow-Alumnae: Norine Manthie, Mabel Connolly, Theresa Bruno, And An Unidentified Observer

Natalie Rosenthal, January 1951, is taking the right road towards a promising career. She is an assistant department manager at Goldblatt's.

Marlene Gunnesch, June 1950, will soon be entering her sophomore year at Northwestern University. Marlene was awarded the Mayor's scholarship at the time of graduation.

Ruth Carstanjen, June 1950, has been studying stenography in the evening classes here at Jones.

Esther Sumerdon, January 1950, has become engaged to Bob Mercurio, Class of June 1949.

Dolores Betley, June 1950, is now employed as a stenographer in the Mayor's office at the City Hall.

Virginia Kling, June 1950, Joe Archie, and Gene Leady, June 1949, have shown their loyalty to Jones by faithfully attending the Alumni meetings and also those sponsored by the Office Management Association.

The Alumni heartily welcomes the graduates of 1951 as new members who will enjoy the meetings and catch the wonderful spirit of the group.

JUNIORS . . . CLASS OF JUNE 1952

When our class entered Jones in September, 1950, we all looked forward to the election of class officers. After the excitement of waiting was over, the results were as follows:

President: Helen Hodits
Vice-President: Bob Vaillancour
Secretary: Phyllis Curry
Treasurer: Barbara James

When it came time to elect 3A officers, the competition was keen and the campaigns vigorous. After the ballots were counted, everyone was pleased to hear that the results were:

President: John Quirke
Vice-President: Eleanor Kalter
Secretary: Marlene Lester
Treasurer: Donna Bay

Many of the 3A's participated in the spring musical, "The Real Thing," in such acts as "April Showers," "The Paper Doll," "Put Your Shoes On, Lucy," "Artist's Life," and "The Thing."

3A girls in the show were: Mary Anne Poczatek, Vivian Roudell, Barbara Johnson, Helen Scott, Valda Sorce, Donna Bay, Shirley Summers, Jackie Johnson, and Norma Marchiori of Division 204; Marguerite Shaw, Joan Jvarsky, Phyllis Curry, Arlene Gorny, Gloria Babcock, Audrey Colbert, and Anna Korbakis, of Division 201.

The 3A's have shared many happy times, and are looking forward to more of the same in their 4B and 4A semesters, Jones is our "Alma Mater", and proudly we hail her.

During our 4B semester, many unforgettable events occurred.

First, the biggest thrill — WE GOT OUR CLASS RINGS—which really made us seniors, first class.

Second, we became Big Sisters and Big Brothers by helping the 3B's to become accustomed to the ways of Jones, and also by urging them to come to us with any problems.

Next, we decided to find our best performers and put them to work. To find hidden talent is like pulling teeth, but division 301 solved this problem by having a "Talent Day" every Friday. They have discovered, as a result, that Howard Wood and Robert Pietsch can dance. With the able assistance of Beth Paulis, Howard and Bob gave their version of the Tennessee Waltz."

Additional talent in all the divisions revealed the following: Marian Anderson and Charlene Van Der Aue play the piano. Our songbirds are: Eleanor Schultz, Janice Miller, Shirley Abuzetian, LaVerne Lay and Mary Lou Kolbaska; also Marion Olson, Rochelle DeJohn and Zora Govedarica.

Last but not least are our sports clubs. They are not to be left out because they play a very important part in our school activities. We have a swimming club in which Frances Geisheimer, Betty Altemeier, and Jeannie Westaway are stars. We also have a bowling club in which Marian Castronovo and Anna Guglielmi are members. Our skating club members are: Shirley Krucsler, Joan Pietras and Kathryn Porcell.

SENIOR PARADE

In the year of 1949, late in January, there set sail over the Sea of Knowledge, a vessel, bearing banners of blue and white. It was headed for the far-distant "Land of Graduation," which we could reach only after a long voyage of two years over this much traveled sea. There were four islands: The Isle of the Wise Fools (3B), The Isle of Happy Ways (3A), The Isle of Hope (4B), The Isle of Graduation (4A). We sixty-three voyagers were Juniors. Each was firmly resolved to succeed or go down with the ship. We chose as captain, Richard Thomas, and his crew consisted of Betty Lou Swanson, Mary Buenrostro, and Catherine Fahey. They guided us to The Isle of the Wise Fools. Several of our shipmates were so enchanted by the Isle that they failed to depart when we weighed anchor.

As we neared The Isle of Happy Ways, our heads began to swell and we thought ourselves very wise indeed. We had become 3A's. Part of our brain food was changed. We now had Civics and Bookkeeping instead of History. Most of us liked the change, although a few of us would have preferred the more easily digested food of the 3B Island. In exploring the Island we chose Donna Fisher to lead us. Donna's assistants were: Diane Nelson, Elsie Grenz, and Audrey Fleischhacker. Soon we participated in a little show called "Fashions and Futures." When a cannibal called "Hurry-Up-And-Get-Into-The-Business-World" warned us not to loiter, we sailed on to the next port.

Our little group landed on the Isle of Hope. Jo Sances was our leader with Vivian Miralli, Helen Stefanos, and Angeline Totaro as assistants. On the Isle we resolved to set a noble example for those who should follow in our footsteps. On this Isle we took part in another show called "Songs the World Over" and held a most successful Flower Sale. Then out of the distance Mr. Carey loomed up and cried: "Smile!" "Hats!" "Think!" and whisked us unsuspecting Seniors off to the last Island. By now many of us were Receptionists.

This Island we liked best of all; yet we explored it with quite sad thoughts since we knew our delightful experiences were almost over as we crossed the Sea of High School Knowledge for the last time. With Nancy Ruscitti as our Pilot, assisted by Antoinette Caccese, Helen Stefanos, and Angeline Totaro, we steered the ship to port. We again participated in a fashion show, "Prim, Pretty and Proper". To make money for the continuation of our voyage, we held a very successful Christmas Card Sale. In one section of the Island we found cold, ice, and huge snowbanks. The flurry of the falling snowflakes suggested to us that we should hold a dance. We appropriately called this dance the "Sno-Ball," While looking for a place to hold the dance we discovered a very large igloo known to the natives of the Island as Lane High School. Joyce Vankat was chosen Queen of the "Sno-Ball", and all the Jones and Lane Eskimos had a whale of a time.

Upon further exploring the Island we found the Graemere Hotel where we held our beautiful Prom. On this night of nights, June Boergerhoff was chosen to reign as "Queen of Moonlight Rhapsody." Two weeks later we had our luncheon at the Morrison Hotel, and our Graduation at C. V. S. followed on January 19.

Our goal, The land of Graduation, was now clearly visible. When we reached it, our friends and parents were there showering us with congratulations.

WOW! . . . THANK HEAVENS!! . . . EVERYTHING IS GEORGE ALREADY!!!

SENIOR CLASS OF JUNE 1951

THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES . . . . .

by joan weinert

"Mom, where is my red scarf?" I walked from the kitchen into the front room and from the front room to the bedroom. "Mom, did you see my navy purse?" I looked nervously at my Bulova. It couldn't be . . . . "Mom, what time is it?" Ahhh, but it was! It was eight o'clock and the letter said, "Please report to the lunchroom at Jones on Tuesday, September 6, 1949, at 9:00 A. M." Anticipating a busy day, I poured an extra bowl of Wheaties to prepare myself. In two gulps it was down and I was ready to leave the house. As fate would have it I returned about four times to retrieve things that had been left on the kitchen table or on the dresser.

"Oh, for gosh sakes, wouldn't you know that I'd have to miss the bus today of all days!" Raced up and down till I thought it would take a Ford truck to slow me down, but luckily a bus came by before anything drastic could happen.

Don't know how it happened but I found myself in front of Jones with about five minutes to spare, so I followed the rest of the crowd into the lunchroom. Everyone made friends quickly and as soon as we were settled in our divisions, all the 3B's were greeted by a "Big Sister" or a "Big Brother." After 8th period there was a party in the school yard for all of us. Now we knew that we had chosen wisely. Jones was proving to be a school where there was a lot of enthusiasm.

In the weeks that followed new experiences met us one by one. At our first class meeting we planned to elect officers for the 3B semester. As the first semester opened, our class was piloted by a man, John O'Brien, followed by Vince Saviano in our 3A semester and Harlene Phillips in the 4B semester. The 4A semester race was a stiff one, too, and again we elected a man, Rick Graykowski, to guide us through our last months at Jones.

Our first three semesters passed quickly. There was always a dance, or a skating party, or a play to look forward to. Things just never became routine and each and every day brought a new event — no, not always a stiff Law test, or a tough English assignment.

Then, On January 29, 1951, we took the helm of the Good Ship JONES. As 4A's we were at the wheel and the fate of the school was in our hands. Would we make it a school to be proud of, or would we take it for granted that Jones owed us everything we received.

Now things did start to pop. All of us were put on a part-time work program which involved spending a minimum of 15 hours a week in a business office. Yes, the Jonesites "Earned While They Learned."

Day in and day out we were reminded that we must live up to the standing expected of Jonesites, and that we must set the standard for the rest of the school. Three of the girls were extra-consciencious about this, for Mary Marshall, Donna Kennedy, and Jo Copolla took first, second, and third prizes in a Posture Contest which included the entire school. The senior class was really rolling.

On the night of April 6, when we sponsored the "Senior Swing" at Lane Tech, we tried to show that Jones meant so much more to us than just being a school. We went all out on the sale of tickets, making the evening a huge success — another evening of fun chalked up, thanks to Jones and to the various committees who worked tirelessly with Joan Petraitis, Dolores Stubbs, and Viola Randazzo.

And say, I'll bet we can all remember the taste of the lucious fried chicken at our Luncheon. MMMMMmmmmmm The fragrance lingered on long past June 13th, the day of the Luncheon. For months we had been planning THE BIG EVENING. Every afternoon you could hear an overtone of conversation from the tables in the lunchroom . . . The big word was "Prom." What to wear, who to take, how to get there? Big problems of the moment . . . The night came and the girls all looked like queens and the fellas like Prince Charmings. As you stepped out of the car in front of the Shoreland that first night of June your boy just couldn't help saying, "Gosh you look wonderful." You smiled and added, "You look mighty sharp too, Joe". With that you proceeded into the ballroom to enjoy the most looked-forward-to-and-most-wonderful evening you ever had.

It is just sixteen days later and here we are, about to receive that coveted piece of paper, our diploma. Until today we have always looked at it as though it were a release from a prison, a pardon, or just plain freedom. Now as I look over the fellas and girls on the stage I can't think of it as that. It is probably the last time that we'll all be together. It is the last time we'll be able to sing "Jones High" together. At this time we would like to thank Mr. Carey, Mr. Leach, Mr. O'Neill, and Miss O'Brien for making Jones a school to be lived-up-to. May we also thank our teachers and sponsors for their wonderful guidance and advice in our time of need. Thank you for making these two years at Jones, truly, THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES . . . .

As You Go

As you travel along in your daily toil
Keep love in your heart — in your eyes a smile.
Give a word of cheer to those who are blue,
A warm handclasp, a cheery "Good Day"
To those you may meet, or pass by the way—
As you travel along.

Start in the day with a word of prayer,
As the birds trill their notes to the morning air.
Let your prayer be to God, like their songs to Heaven,
Thankful for life and the blessings given;
Thinking those thoughts that are right and good,
Doing those deeds that you feel you should—
As you travel along.

Commencement means closing the cover to High School studies — it should never mean the end of education. Any profession or business success is attained only by continual study. This is especially true in the field of advertising . . . . as many Jones graduates con substantiate.
